DEP:

Tire dump is out of business

By ALISON ALOISIO

Peter Gordon's Greenwood tire dump appears to be out of business, but the tires aren't going away anytime soon.

The state has dropped legal action against Gordon, opting instead to ask DEP to oversee cleanup of the Rabbit Road site. Gordon has ceased operations and laid off his employees, according to state officials.

An estimated 1.7 million tires are stored on the property. The site was originally licensed in 1991 as a flow-through facility. But it has instead served as a dumping ground because Gordon has been unable to find markets for the tires.

Last June Oxford County Superior Court issued a temporary restraining order preventing Gordon from taking in any more tires. It also directed him to take various remedial measures.

Those included reducing the height of tire piles and widening fire lanes between them.

A consent decree permanently restraining Gordon from accepting tires followed in late August. The decree called for the same remedial measures. But Gordon has not complied, according to state officials.

Jon Edwards, Maine assistant attorney general, said last week that further legal action would be fruitless.

"To file a contempt action, you have to demonstrate he has the

MDOT engineer taps the brakes on Mayville speed-limit reduction

Planning Board will review its request to selectmen

By MICHAEL DANIELS

Lowering the Route 2 speed limit through Mayville could actually make the road more dangerous, a Maine Department of Transportation engineer told the Bethel Planning Board last week.

The town selectmen are currently considering a request from the Planning Board and local business owners to lower the speed limit in Mayville from 45 to 35 mph.

The change, which must be approved by MDOT, would apply to a stretch of road running from the Androscoggin River bridge to just beyond the Irving station.

Both the Planning Board and the business people said they were concerned about safety, especially as the area becomes more developed.

But engineer Billy Stowell told the Planning Board that lowering the limit would create two distinct groups of drivers, "those who observe the limit and those who don't."

Whenever such a situation is created, Stowell said, there is a heightened chance of accidents.

"If you drop the limit 10 mph and it's not warranted, the accident rate goes up," he said.

Since "there's no great accident problem there now," Stowell said, a speed study would be necessary before MDOT would approve lowering the limit.

The speed of cars currently using the area, he said, "tells me that the public is voting that it wants a faster speed limit. And if the traveling public doesn't like the limit, they won't honor it."

From the state's point of view, changing the speed limit is a statistical issue. "If you ask me, 'Does somebody have to get killed out there?' The answer is yes,"

Skiway neighbors may still face stop sign

By ALISON ALOISIO

Plans for a traffic light in Newry may have to be delayed until spring. If that happens, a stop sign will likely be installed on either the Sunday River or Skiway Access Road for the winter.

Residents of the upper Sunday River Road have already voiced their opposition to a sign on their road.

Earlier this month MDOT had proposed moving the current stop sign at the end of the Access Road to the Sunday River Road. But when upper valley residents objected to that plan at a special town meeting, voters approved a traffic light instead.

But Brian Mitchell, MDOT construction supervisor for the project, said Monday there may not be enough time to complete all the paving at the intersection this year. Paving plants are scheduled to close Nov. 17.

"The way the season is winding down, we don't believe we can complete it on time," Mitchell said.

As a result, he said, work crews may have to leave that portion of the Sunday River Road intact for the winter. The original plan had called for changing its course slightly to hook up with the Access Road.

Mitchell said MDOT may take a less time-consuming measure -- paving a temporary section at the end of the Access Road.

But that would mean a stop sign on one of the roads until spring.

ONE STOP OVER THE LINE--A new freight siding in Bethel was one of 24 conditions set by the town Planning Board last year when it approved the site plan application for the Bethel Station project. The new siding was to replace the siding taken out on Railroad Street to make way for the project. The St. Lawrence and Atlantic Railroad is now at work on that new siding (left) -- but it is located in Gilead, not Bethel. Developer Heinle Merrill said he learned only last week that the railroad company and the Maine Department of Transportation had decided to locate the new siding approximately 1700 feet west of the Bethel town line. Earlier, preliminary plans called for locating the siding on MDOT-owned land in West Bethel, Merrill said, but the land there is crossed by a telephone company easement, and the remaining parcel proved to be too narrow to accommodate the siding. Merrill said he plans to approach the Planning Board at its next meeting to ask that the language of the condition be waived or rewritten. The Gilead location, he argues, meets the spirit, if not the letter, of the condition. But Planning Board chairman Don Feeney said last week that having a siding in Bethel had been a public-hearing issue, and the board could not ignore it simply because of decisions by the railroad company and MDOT.

Rebels fall in western Maine field hockey finale

By ALISON ALOISIO

The Telstar High School field hockey team wound up on the short end of the stick Monday, losing 2-0 to Yarmouth in the Western Class C finals.

Sarah Stebbins scored the Clippers' first goal midway through the first half, breaking in alone on Rebel goalie Jesse Wight. The opportunity came after a Telstar penalty corner. Yarmouth's Emily Skrok cleared the ball to midfield, where it got by Jana Mason, giving Stebbins her chance.

At halftime Telstar coach Gail Wight exhorted her squad to "dig deeper," but the Clippers never let up. After Jesse Wight made a save on another Stebbins shot, Kate Brown scored on the rebound.

Telstar went without a shot on goal in the second half.

Coach Wight said after the game that although the Rebels played well in the first half, "they weren't aggressive enough in the circle to score."

As for the second half, "they were flat. They weren't used to Yarmouth's good stickwork -- usually it's us doing that to the other team," she said.

Despite the loss, the Rebels still exceeded Wight's season goal of getting beyond the first round of the playoffs.

And they may be back.

"Most of them are coming back next year," said Wight. "They have a very bright future."

Ski season is underway

By MICHAEL DANIELS

The Sunday River Ski Resort opened Monday morning, with skiing and snowboarding for expert skiers and riders.

Snowmaking began Sunday night on the T-2 trail. First tracks were made at 7:17 a.m., according to Sunday River spokesman Skip King. Sugarloaf/USA also opened Monday, but later in the day, according to a spokesman for the Carrabassett Valley resort.

Sunday River was also making snow Monday on the Sunday Punch and Right Stuff trails.

Additional trails are expected to open shortly, King said. The resort plans to make snow around the clock, weather permitting, and expects the current window of snowmaking temperatures to permit it to make enough snow to remain open for the season, he said.

This year marks the second season in the past three Sunday River has opened in October.

WOODSTOCK CRASH SCENE--Four Auburn area teenagers died Friday evening on Route 26 in Woodstock, when their car struck a pulp truck pulling out from Route 232. Killed were Jason Phillips, 18, of West Poland, a senior at Edward Little High School; Maca Roddy, 18, of Auburn; Jessica Pelletier, 19, of Poland Spring and Jason Gagnon, 18, of Auburn. The driver of truck, Tauno Wilson, 60, of Hebron, was uninjured. The four victims had been headed north on Route 26 for a weekend in Montreal. The accident is still being investigated, but according to preliminary reports the victims' 1987 Nissan, apparently being driven by Roddy, had just passed another vehicle when it collided with the pulp truck. The car struck the truck in the fuel tank, just behind the cab. Much of the front of the car was demolished by the impact, and the vehicle quickly began to burn. Jammed doors and spreading flames defeated repeated attempts by other motorists to free the teenagers in the rear seat. Alcohol is not believed to have been involved in the tragedy, but speed may have been a factor, according to Steven McCausland, spokesman for the Maine Department of Public Safety. Police are also investigating the possibility that the Nissan had been involved in a game of high-speed "leapfrog" just prior to the accident. Two weeks earlier an Oxford County Sheriff's cruiser was totaled in an accident at the same intersection, but there were no serious injuries in the earlier accident. An engineer for the Maine Department of Transportation said Monday that the intersection is not considered to be a high-accident location. Here, Bethel police officer Darren Tripp assists with measurements at the accident scene.

WASHINGTON--Exercise can be a path toward a religious life, says a study that has examined the connection between physical activity and religious beliefs, including the flood of people who have converted to Christianity's high, "can create a change in the way we see the world, a blurring of the border between the secular and the sacred. The self is common in Eastern religions, and in Christianity, as well," says Kasulis, a professor at Ohio State University. "It's about this feeling of unity as the true self of the self from the rest of the world. This spiritual discipline is less common in the West," he says. "It considers the soul -- the spirit -- as the true self of the self."

Briefly

Safer Families reorganizing

The Safer Families' hotline will be temporarily suspended beginning Nov. 1, until sometime early next year. Safer Families Program, a project operating for over four years to help victims of domestic violence in the towns of Andover, Hanover, Newry, West Bethel, Bethel, Gilead, Locke Mills, Bryant Pond, and West Paris, is reorganizing to improve its ability to serve these communities, according to board president Donna Richard. If a domestic violence emergency occurs, victims can get help by dialing 911 or contacting the local police department. During this time of reorganization, court advocates will remain active in the South Paris and Rumford District Courts and support groups will continue to meet as scheduled.

High-speed chase ends in suicide

OXFORD--A high-speed chase involving several area police departments ended when the man being pursued shot himself in the head with a shotgun off the Coldwater Brook Road late Saturday night. Police were attempting to pull over Eric Bubier, 30, at around 11 p.m. A neighbor had reported he was threatened by Bubier, who was armed with a handgun, according to Maine Public Safety Department spokesman Stephen McCausland.

Motels booked for ski meets

RUMFORD--With women's ski jumping and the 1996 Junior Cross Country Olympics coming up at Black Mountain, area motels and hotels are reporting they are booked for the events. About $250,000 is expected to be spent on food and lodging for the Junior Olympics, slated for March 3-9. Black Mountain also hosted the event in 1992. The ski area was selected over Waterville Valley this year. A United States Ski Association spokesman said Black Mountain will be the first site in the U.S. to hold a women's ski jumping international exhibition.

Poachers and trespassers targeted

AUGUSTA--State game wardens will be keeping a sharp eye out for trespassers during this hunting season. Wardens also will be aggressively enforcing anti-poaching laws, which the Legislature expanded this year to authorize the lifelong revocation of hunting licenses for some offenses. The no-nonsense enforcement policy comes as hunters feel pressure from groups pushing for more limits on the sport and increasing competition from other hunters. At the same time, more private land is being posted as off-limits to hunters.

Mills to produce wood pellets

HOULTON--Hoping to capitalize on the growing popularity of stoves that burn wood pellets, two Aroostook County mills will soon be producing tons of one-inch pellets. The raw materials -- wood chips and sawdust -- will come from Aroostook County and Canada. Pellet stoves are in great demand in the Boston area, according to a spokesman for one of the companies.

Drought alleviated by storm

NEW HAMPSHIRE--Several inches of rain last week eased the drought situation in the Granite State. The National Weather Service said the Oct. 21 storm dumped between four and nine inches of rain in central New Hampshire in about seven hours. The rain "helps a lot of wetlands and brought stream flows back," said Ken Stern of the state Department of Environmental Services. He said groundwater levels are harder to change, but the storm was the third or fourth significant rainfall in as many weeks, and things are looking better.

New Hampshire healthiest state

New Hampshire has been named the healthiest state for the second consecutive year, according to an insurance company that ranks the health of populations in the 50 states. The survey employs 17 factors, from traffic deaths to smoking and heart disease. Vermont ranked sixth and Maine seventh. Maine improved from last year's 14th ranking. Mississippi was rated last. The study also found that Americans' health is improving, thanks to a decline in smoking, lower infant mortality and greater state support for health care for the poor. But it also warned a trend toward increased smoking among teenagers may erode those gains.

Cougar hunt to resume?

LOS ANGELES--In response to the increased frequency of encounters between people and cougars, California voters will decide next year whether to remove the animals' protected status and allow them to be hunted. Last year, two people were killed by cougars. They were the first fatal attacks since 1910. Cougar hunting was banned in 1972. Since then, the population has grown from about 2,400 to at least 6,000.

Slow economic growth in 2nd quarter

WASHINGTON--Maine was among seven states where personal income rose at least a half-percent above the national average in the second quarter of this year. Nationwide, personal income rose 0.8 percent, the smallest increase in nearly two years. Even in the fastest-growing states, the gains generally were well below increases in the first quarter. The Commerce Department said the Midwest and parts of the South were particularly hard hit, due to declining manufacturing payrolls and falling farm income.

Colorado ski areas get free advertising

DENVER--The snowstorm that blanketed Denver's Mile High stadium two Sundays ago caught the attention of ski enthusiasts. Many Colorado ski areas said they were deluged with phone calls from people watching the nationally televised game between the Broncos and Kansas City Chiefs. The cost-free advertising came at an opportune time for the ski areas, since many skiers start booking winter vacation plans this time of year.

Prospects for forest bill dim

WASHINGTON--Congress is considering a bill with tax incentives aimed at protecting Northeastern forests, but its prospects for passage are not good. The Family Forestland Preservation Tax Act would change inheritance taxes, which sometimes force landowners to sell property to developers or cut timber in order to pay their taxes. A spokesman for Sen. Judd Gregg, R-N.H. (who introduced the bill) said the Senate finance committee tentatively adopted only a provision calling for a capital gains tax reduction in the sale of timber harvested after 25 years. The four other provisions would: allow heirs to make post mortem conservation easements on forest lands; give tax breaks for leaving property wooded rather than clearing it; give a capital gains tax break if conservation easements are sold to public conservation agencies; eliminate the requirement that forest landowners work 100 hours per year in order to deduct management expenses.

Exercise, spirituality connected

WASHINGTON--Exercise and spirituality go hand in hand, and running can be a path toward a religious experience, according to researchers who have studied the connection. Exercise-induced mental and physiological changes, including the flood of body-made opiates that induces the "runner's high," can create a change in consciousness. The use of exercise to feel a blurring of the border between the self and that which is beyond the self is common in Eastern practices such as yoga, said Thomas P. Kasulis, a professor at Ohio State University. Yogis would understand this feeling of unity as the true state of existence, and think of the separation of the self from the rest of the world as an illusion. Exercise as a spiritual discipline is less common in the West. Mainstream Christianity considers the soul -- the spiritual self -- to be essentially distinct from the body.

From the

Bethel Town Office

Since I have been in Bethel I have noticed one subject about which everyone seems to have an opinion -- the airport (Col. Dyke Airfield). Some make no bones about expressing their dislike of the airport. Yet, we have a resource which is showing signs of growing pains. How best to develop this resource has been the subject of long hours both with the selectmen and the committee presently in place (Bethel Airport Advisory Committee) and more recently the Airport Industrial Park Committee.

Minimum Standards for commercial activities at the airport have been approved by the selectmen. The purpose of this document is, "to allow for the establishment and orderly development of a sound economic base upon which the Airport will thrive and experience a stable growth pattern." This past summer a lease was signed with Bethel Air Service, who are what is known as fixed base operators (FBO). Traffic is increasing at Col. Dyke Airfield and, realistically, it can be expected to continue to increase and grow.

What is the next step? On Nov. 7 Bethel voters will be asked to vote on an ordinance which will establish a Bethel Airport Authority. The Airport Authority will relieve the selectmen of the day-to-day operations of the facilities. The Airport Authority will submit its budget to the selectmen, but town funds will no longer be used to support the budget. The Airport Authority will run the airport in much the same manner that the sewer commissioners run the Sewer District.

The ordinance will provide that there will be five regular members and two associates, with a stipulation that at any one time only three of the seven members can be licensed pilots, aircraft owners, or associated with the aviation industry. Airport Authority members will be appointed by the selectmen and serve terms similar to other town committee members. Combining the two committees (Airport Advisory and Airport Industrial Park) will further assure financial stability.

What will it cost the taxpayer? Many hours have been devoted to budgets, long-range projections and conversations with the accountants. The 1993 town appropriation of $50,000 for the purchase of the industrial building has been reimbursed to the town. The airport and the industrial part as one entity will not only be able to grow and support itself, it will also be able to repay within five years the $15,000 appropriated in 1992 for operation and marketing. I urge you to approve this ordinance.

From the Bethel Police log:

Punctual, polite bear is still unwelcome caller

At 8:10 p.m. on October 23 an East Bethel resident reported that a bear keeps coming to her door around 8:30 every night, and has been beating on the door. Police contacted a game warden, who checked the residence and found there was in fact a bear knocking on the door. The warden advised he would try to take care of the problem.

Wednesday, October 25

At 8:15 p.m. an Oxford County Sheriff's deputy requested that police be on the lookout for any subject in possession of a large amount of change. The deputy was investigating a burglary on the North Songo Pond Road in which approximately $500 in assorted coins were taken. They included pure silver half-dollar coins (no copper strip around the rim), hexagonal Susan B. Anthony dollar coins and wheat pennies. The coins had been collected for over 20 years.

At 11:12 p.m. police found a blue Ford Escort station wagon parked on the Old Gore Road in Woodstock. It matched the description of a vehicle stolen from the Frozen Logger restaurant on Oct. 21. The registration confirmed it was the same vehicle. An Oxford County Sheriff's deputy was dispatched.

Saturday, Oct. 28

At 2 p.m. a Chandler Hill Road resident reported that a female at the Big Apple on Railroad Street appeared to be intoxicated. The police officer found she was having trouble walking inside the store. She was given a sobriety test, which she failed. The officer told her if she got in her vehicle to drive he would arrest her. She had three young children with her. Police called her boyfriend to pick her up.

Sunday, Oct. 29

At 1:10 a.m. police observed a car swerving back and forth in its lane on the Mayville Road. The officer stopped the vehicle and checked the condition of the driver. He had been talking to his girlfriend in the car. The driver failed to produce insurance information and was fined $110.

Monday, Oct. 30

At 11:29 p.m. a Bethel Park Apartments resident called to say someone was inside her apartment and she didn't know who it was. A Bethel police officer and a state trooper entered the residence, and found the subject in the living room. After a short struggle he was subdued and arrested. During transport to jail and at the jail the subject threatened police several times. The subject, Jonathan E. Dubey of Newry, was charged with burglary and criminal threatening.

ability to comply. It would be a difficult burden for us to demonstrate that," he said.

Edwards said the problem is now back in DEP's court.

"DEP may try to get the National Guard to do some work, like cleaning up the fire lanes," he said.

But it doesn't appear that will happen anytime soon.

DEP's Michael Parker said Friday that the situation is not bad enough -- relatively speaking -- to warrant action in the next year.

"The legislature has given us some money -- $600,000 -- to use for fire cleanup across the state. We ranked the five worst fire dumps, and Gordon's is number four," he said.

Stowell said.

Suzi Harrington asked why the current speed limit isn't more vigorously enforced.

Town Manager Madeleine Henley replied that it was largely a matter of manpower.

It's not a good idea to have the town's one on-duty officer sit in a visible spot for very long at a time, she said.

Stowell had no objections to a second proposal from the Planning Board and business owners -- that parking be prohibited in the breakdown lane.

Parking, he said, is a local not a state issue.

The Planning Board is expected to review its request to the selectmen at its next meeting, on Nov. 8.

Four of Bethel's five selectmen were present at last week's Planning Board meeting.

Marie Bartlett, chairman of the Greenwood selectmen, said Monday that the most important issue now from the town's standpoint is fire safety. She's glad DEP is considering removing some of the tires.

"We'll just have to sit tight for another year," she said.

Bartlett also said she was pleased that the flow of tires has stopped.

"It was very frustrating that they kept coming in, and DEP wasn't doing anything about it. Now we'll just have to deal with what's on site."

"DEP kept their word -- it took a long time -- but they kept it, and that's the main thing," she said.

TOO MUCH STEPHEN KING

To the Editor:

Workman's Comp? Whistle blowers? Someone's been reading too much Stephen King. Members of these or any other groups have nothing to fear from Question No. 1, for it deals only with "human rights" laws. These others are called "preference laws" and are not affected by No. 1.

However, they may have other reasons to worry. One of the first casualties of the Portland gay-rights ordinance was that the Boy Scouts lost their United Way funding. Within seven days of its passage, the School Board voted to include "sexual orientation" in the district's affirmative action policy, giving homosexuals preference for jobs and promotions. Almost immediately after passage, a "sex-ed" workshop was held for Deering High students featuring a lesbian couple who described their first sex together (quite graphically). While falsely implying that veterans' rights are in danger here, homosexuals are busy suing them in Boston and calling them "bigots." Here in Bethel, signs urging a yes vote are being torn down or stolen. Apparently First Amendment rights belong only to certain people. This is what voting no will get you!

What will voting yes do? It will prevent the granting of special rights and privileges to any group of people based solely on their behavior (just this week the state legislature cleared the way for a gay-rights bill). Future groups would have to meet the guidelines for disadvantaged minorities as already set forth by the U.S. Supreme Court. Homosexuals don't qualify under the guidelines, because they want protection for a behavior.

The economy-tourism? Please! In the three years since Colorado passed Amendment 2, eliminating special rights for homosexuals, unemployment has fallen dramatically, tourism has risen dramatically (31 percent), ski resort profits have soared, and businesses are flocking to Colorado. Maybe, if we're lucky, we'll suffer in the same way here in Bethel.

Nina Mollicone advises, "... know exactly what you are voting for." Good advice. Stan Howe says, "Let's keep the state living up to its reputation 'the way life should be'."

That's easy. -- Just vote yes on Nov. 7.

Rev. John W. Grant, Pastor
Bethel Church of the Nazarene

UNCONSTITUTIONAL, IMMORAL, DISCRIMINATORY

To the Editor:

No special rights -- equal rights. Question No. 1 is not a bid for affirmative action or preference on the part of any group. It is, instead, an endeavor by a radical right group to limit the potential for any community within Maine to extend the present protected classifications beyond those presently listed. This effort is aimed at lesbians and gay men but could conceivably include such additions as political affiliation, military status, or economic status, as well as sexual orientation. Protected status includes legal protection, employment, housing, credit, and public accommodation. It is not a license to quotas or privileges.

To deny anyone these protections is unconstitutional, immoral and discriminatory. Limiting legislation necessary to insure anyone basic civil rights based on values, prejudices, or hearsay regarding a targeted group brings back lessons of Nazism and promotes hate, violence, and division of community. A no vote says no to those who seek to impose their agenda on not only present but future Maine.

VOTE YES TO SAY NO TO WRONG

To the Editor:

There has been much controversy in the media over the Question No. 1, to be voted on in the coming election. The main claim in the controversy is to vote yes is to vote for discrimination. I don't see this as a social issue but a moral issue.

This amendment has been referred to as the so called "Gay Rights Bill." As I understand the word "gay" it refers to those who practice sodomy. Which is forthrightly and strongly forbidden in the Bible, the word of God. It simply says, "If a man also lie with mankind as he with a woman, both of them have committed an abomination." (Lev. 20:17) As I see it, this part of God's word is just as binding as: "Thou shalt not commit adultery." (Exodus 20:14), one of the ten commandments. Sodomy as well as adultery are both equally wrong.

The problem is men want to change the word of God to adjust to their own preferences. This is pure humanism which teaches "That there are no absolutes, no right or wrong, that moral values are to be self-determined and situational. Do your own thing as long as it does not harm anybody else." To me the spiritual laws of God are just as immutable as His natural laws, the law of gravity for example.

The eleven categories stated in the amendment on your ballot, such as race, color, sex, national origin, etc., are unchangeable, but one can change their conduct and lifestyle, especially when it is wrong.

This amendment is not intended to be discriminatory but simply a means of protecting the natural rights of future generations. Therefore, vote yes on the Question No. 1, for in voting yes you are saying no to wrong.

Stop sign

when the work would be completed.

Mitchell said another option -- building the roads in their final locations and leaving them unpaved for the winter -- is not a good one.

"Maintenance is a problem. Gravel roads never melt off," he said.

Public input sought

MDOT and town officials met Friday to discuss the situation. Selectman Wendy Hanscom said selectmen reluctantly agreed then to a stop sign on the Sunday River Road, if the project couldn't be completed in full.

But Mitchell said Monday the placement of the sign there is not necessarily carved in stone.

"Putting it at the end of the Access Road is still not out of the question. If the town gets a lot of objections, we will work with them. But the Access Road is the heavily travelled road," he said.

Hanscom said Monday selectmen will make a final decision in a couple of weeks -- when they get the final word on whether the project can be fully completed.

She said she hopes that in the meantime, townspeople will contact the selectmen with their views on the options.

Asked if Sunday River Ski Resort had an opinion on the issue, spokesman Skip King said, "This is an MDOT project. We really have nothing to say about it."

DON'T LEGITIMIZE THEIR HATRED AND BIGOTRY

To the Editor:

I read the following in Friday's Sun-Journal: "The other kids used to tease nine-year old Steven Wilson for playing with Barbie dolls and girls. When other boys called him faggot and queer, he would become enraged, curse them and run."

"Earlier this month Steven's mother had to step in when she found her son choking a seven-year old neighbor boy."

"A week later, Steven was found dead in a drainage ditch a mile from his home. He had been raped, beaten with a log and drowned."

"The 15-year old big brother of the boy Steven had choked was charged with the crime."

The debate over Question No. 1 scares me because it sounds more like these kids than it does like intelligent adults.

What message are we sending to our children?

Listened to the debate over Question No. 1--and you can hear the hatred and bigotry.

This referendum was prompted by a radical religious group (of which all Christians are not a part) under the politically correct title of Concerned Maine Families.

If they're so concerned about Maine families why are they not involved in drug and alcohol abuse? Domestic violence programs? Incest and child molestation (which, by the way, statistics prove is perpetrated mainly by straight members of the family)? These are issues that really affect Maine families.

Vote no on Question No. 1 and you allow the law to stand as written.

No one has asked for special rights -- another myth created to stir fear and hatred.

Voting no will end this childish debate and send a message to everyone to stop the hate.

Voting yes changes the law and opens the door to the high cost of overturning what already exists.

If you or someone you know has been discriminated against because of nationality, age, disability or whatever reason, then you already know how wrong and hurtful this can be.

Stop the hatred now and let's begin tackling the problems that really concern Maine families.

Discrimination is wrong. If you believe this -- vote no on Question No. 1.

GOD HATES PERVERTS

To the Editor:

The real issue is not money, but morality. Do you want God's blessing on the State of Maine? God hated sexual perversion so much that He wiped Sodom and Gomorrah and surrounding towns from the face of the earth (Genesis 19:24,25). God has not changed His attitude toward what we call sodomy.

A yes vote on referendum Question No. 1 is a vote for morality. God's moral laws are just as absolute as His physical laws. We can break ourselves over them, but we can't break the laws themselves. Those who practice sodomy have all the rights and protection that the rest of us have in Maine. Please do not vote to open the door to special rights. Vote yes on Question No. 1.

Linwood Hanson

NO TO DISCRIMINATION

To the Editor:

Gov. King and senators Snow and Cohen, plus many of our state officials, businesses and religious groups have joined together in support of a no vote on Question No. 1. Supporters of this misleading, flawed and confusing referendum seek to deprive citizens of their rights, to discriminate against those to whom they object.

The radical right is attempting to divide Mainers into "Us" and "Them." It is asking the electorate to support a stand against those that the radical right has deemed unworthy of protection. Somehow Ms. Crosby and her Concerned Maine Family group has lost sight of the majesty of this country and the guarantee of the U.S. Constitution. Very much like other groups in other parts of the world the radical right is waging a crusade against the civic state, against the law of the land -- which the Constitution of the United States represents.

The rule of law, fairness for our neighbors and a willingness to work together for the common good have driven this state and nation to greatness. As a state and country we must never lose touch with compassion for others. We must continue to allow no one to be restricted. We must not lose what is unique in our history of country -- that our faith that freedom of conscience leads to the greatest good.

This country represents freedom. No group has the right to discriminate against another. Question No. 1 seeks to legalize discrimination against gays and lesbians now, against un-named groups later.

I urge all of your readers to vote no On Question No. 1.

CONGRATULATIONS, TMS SOCCER TEAM

To the Editor:

To the boys and girls of the Telstar Middle School Soccer Team -- Congratulations! As a team you entered the playoffs the underdog, you took that opportunity and brought the level of play to a point where you were now the team to beat. You did it with hard work, consistency and most of all, good sportsmanship.

In the final game against Buckfield, you played to a 0-0 double overtime tie -- the result, co-champions of your division. As parents watching, you prided us with your skills and efforts in knowing what you had to do to get where you wanted to go.

To Charlie Raymond, what else can we say. For three years in a row, you have brought these young individuals to the final game in playoffs. As a coach, you have given 100 percent to these young people. I have watched both of my boys play for you, and on many occasions heard them say what a nice guy you are. To many of these young players you will be a difference in their lives, especially when they continue to play organized sports. I know I can speak for all of the parents when I say, thanks, Charlie Raymond. Thanks for a great season, thanks for a great team, and most of all, thanks for making a difference.

John Cheney,
For all the team parents

COMBATING HEAD LICE

To the Editor:

It has come to our attention that there have been numerous cases of head lice in the area. We feel it may be helpful to share some facts and clear up some misconceptions on this subject. Head lice are animal parasites and are extremely contagious. Lice do not leap. The disease is transmitted by contact with the infected person or article (hats, combs, brushes, or other clothing).

Treatment shampoo is available at any pharmacy, but must be used properly, and often repeatedly. The shampoo will kill live insects but the eggs need to be removed with the comb that comes in the kit. The eggs (nits) cannot be blown or brushed off. They wrap around the hair shaft and must be removed. Clothing and bedding must be washed with hot water and dried with dryer heat (not line or air dried). Carpets and upholstery (furniture and car) can be steam cleaned or sprayed with a disinfectant or a flea spray that says it will kill eggs. Stuffed animals or non-washable clothing must be put in a plastic bag and tied tightly for two weeks. Combs and brushes can be treated with the shampoo or strong disinfectant.

Although we are not able to help you in the salon, we'll be glad to answer further questions as can your local pharmacist.

COMMENTS FROM THE OFFICE OF THE TOWN MANAGER

The manner in which a Town Clerk is selected is an issue which should be resolved this coming year. In towns which have a town manager form of government there is a choice of that official being appointed or elected.

We have always elected that person but it is apparent the situation has changed since the Town Clerk's office is now in the Town Office. The secretary has served in that capacity since she was elected to the office. The system has worked very well thus far but in the event the secretary was not elected to the Town Clerk's office there would have to be changes made. The first question would be: where would the Clerk's office be located? It would seem doubtful if another person elected would want to spend full time in the Town Office. There is not that much work load, nor would the return be enough that many could afford it.

From the reactions of the public, it would appear they are reasonably satisfied with the present conditions and I believe this should be protected by having the selectmen appoint.

Elwyn N. Dickey

NEW PRESIDENT OF MAINE
SKI COACHES

At a meeting of the Maine Ski Coaches in Waterville on Oct. 31, Timothy Lavallee was elected president of this organization. Mr. Lavallee, skiing coach at Telstar Regional High School, has long been associated with this sport. He was a four-year member of his high school ski team at Winthrop High School, where he was made captain his senior year. Later he duplicated that record at Plymouth (N. H.) State College, where he was a four-year veteran of the college's ski team, being elected captain his senior year. Mr. Lavallee has had two successful seasons of coaching the sport at Telstar, last year's culminating in the team's winning the Class B Championship.

AMBULANCE LICENSING LAW
EFFECTIVE JAN. 1, 1971

Ambulance personnel and businesses are reminded that the Ambulance Licensing Law, passed by the 104th legislature, goes into effect Jan. 1, 1971. Farnham Folsom, Acting Director of the State Emergency Medical Services Division said this week that, at that time, all vehicles and services must be licensed. He added that at least one person on an ambulance call must hold a state ambulance attendant license.

Folsom said that the various licensing forms have been sent by the Division to all organizations and individuals on its mailing list. Included with the forms are the rules and regulations established in the new law and equipment requirements for operating an ambulance service.

He added that any organization or person who has not received the forms, but would like to, should write or call the Division of Emergency Medical Services, Department of Health and Welfare, in Augusta.

FISKE NAMED AS MAINE'S
"TEACHER OF THE YEAR"

Maine's Teacher of the Year for 1970 is a science teacher at Telstar Regional High School who is experimenting with teaching methods to take classes out of the stereotypical category and catch the interest of some of the kids.

A. James Fiske, a member of the science department at the S. A. D. 44 high school, was named Teacher of the Year Wednesday by the State Department of Education. At Telstar he is using an individualized instruction program which has won plaudits from the department.

A. James Fiske

In his chemistry classes a two-teacher team works with students as they progress at individual speeds. There are no lectures, no textbooks, no standardized tests.

Mr. Fiske started his teaching career as a part-time instructor at Dixfield Regional High School, later achieving full-time status.

Later he joined the faculty at Mexico High School and while there, shared in development of the individualized instruction program which he has continued to use since transferring to Telstar a year ago.

While teaching at Mexico, Mr. Fiske served on the S. A. D. 44 board. He is active in numerous community affairs and has been vice president and program chairman for the local chamber of commerce in Bethel.

In announcing the nomination, Maine Education Commissioner Kenneth S. Nickerson commended him for his forward-looking approach to the teaching of science, his ability to communicate with his students, and his active participation in civic affairs.

A Phone Call Away

East Stoneham

by Eleanor Nelson

Last week was busy. This week -- not much happening that I know of. Last Friday, the 20th, I did go to the doctor's in Norway and got shot in the knee, and it seems a miracle. The pain is all gone. It's unbelievable!

Sunday, I turned in the Stoneham Church News for the Koinonia paper.

Tuesday, Frances Grant and Eleanor Nelson went to Gilead and put remembrance flowers on an aunt's grave and also on Leroy Bennett's in Bethel and then enjoyed a nice lunch at Breaux's.

What nice weather the past few days, but we're told the weekend will be different. The last rains really helped people's wells and they could stand a bit more before winter gets here.

On Wednesday, Oct. 25, the Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War 1861-1865 Hannah F. Richardson Tent No. 19 met at the home of Eleanor Nelson with seven members present. Tent President Lesley Dean (I spelled it right!) but I almost put Gowan -- age is getting to me, I guess. Anyway, the meeting was opened by the president at 7:20 p.m. using the short form. General Orders No. 1 was read by the secretary, Joyce Goun. The treasurer's report was read and accepted. It was voted and seconded to pay the balance on the Daughters' special dues for the charter members. I still have flags to sell if anyone wants one for their relatives who was a Daughtress. A fundraiser for selling knitted hats, scarves and cookies at the U.F.W. Pike station on the Oxford Hills Christmas Parade in Norwayville Nov. 18.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Joyce Goun in Norway on Wednesday, Nov. 29, at 7 p.m. The meeting was adjourned and refreshments of sweet cider and doughnuts with Halloween decorations were served.

Albert Nelson Jr. has had a new hot-top driveway put in and it looks real nice.

A while ago we were at the Bull Ring and while there we had a nice chat with a friend who used to live in Stoneham -- Roswell Allen. We hadn't seen him for quite a few years and it was nice to visit with him.

The local snowmobile club is planning a bean and chili and hot dogs supper on Saturday, Nov. 11, 6 p.m. at the Club House here in Stoneham. All residents in Stoneham that have registered snowmobiles are invited to join them. The next meeting will be Nov. 14, 7 p.m. at the Stoneham Fire Station.

I had to laugh this morning on the way to the handdresser's in East Waterford. At Jeff Springer's farm, out in the pasture, there were as many as 30 black and white cows all huddled around a roll of hay, and all I could see was all their behinds. It reminded me of football players in a huddle. I wish I had had a camera. They looked so cute and pretty and funny.

Don't forget people, to get out and vote on Nov. 7. Your vote just might make the difference. Don't wish they didn't make the wording so complicated! Anyway, study it and then decide how you want to vote and do it. It's your privilege.

That's it till next week

West Paris

On the evening of Oct. 21 Eldith Lang was surprised with a belated birthday party. Fifty people gathered at Thurlow Hall in Woodstock to honor Eldith, who turned 80 on Oct. 12.

There were tasty refreshments including a birthday cake made by Brenda Jeselick.

The hall was decorated in cheerful colors by Daphne Halley. A large banner made by Jeff Halley was hung by the entrance.

Just Champagne served as the order of the party. A happy time was had by all.

Much sympathy is extended to his wife Marjorie and the family members of Reynold "Pete" Chase. Our community has suffered a great loss.

The Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War, Judith Grover Tent No. 17 gave Department President Sally Sawyer a reception on Sunday afternoon at the Woodstock Elementary School. The hall was pretty with red, white and blue decorations. The program started with Nadja Bolio playing the piano while the department officers marched in. Elsie Bonney, president of Judith Grover Tent No. 17, introduced the department officers, Heather, Amanda and Tiffany Jordan did some elogging for the party. "America" was sung and the flag saluted. Sally Sawyer introduced her family and thanked people for coming. Lesley Dean, department chaplain and D.U.V. chairman, spoke of the Home for Homeless Veterans in Waterville and how it could use help in the way of money and material things. She also spoke about the Save America's Flags program in Augusta, in which the D.U.V. has been active. Refreshments were served, including a beautiful cake with D.U.V. seal on it made by her sister, Lillian Brooks, and many other goodies. Head of arrangements was Sally's sister, Elsie Bonney. Sally received many nice gifts, and wishes for a most successful two years were extended to her from other tents.

The Woodstock-Greenwood Senior Citizens will meet on Thursday, Nov. 2, at the Grange Hall with dinner by the Woodstock High School Alumni Association and a program by Herschel Abbott. Sympathy is extended to the family of Maynard Cushman.

Ruth Taylor received many cards on her birthday and wishes to thank everyone. Mary Brown and daughter from New Jersey have been visiting Ruth.

Judith Grover Tent No. 17 will meet on Monday, Nov. 13, for a catered meal and a festive party.

Ken Hoyt has returned home from the hospital.

The Woodstock Extension will meet on Nov. 15 at 10:30 a.m. for a meeting on "Cooking with Herbs and Stir Fry" at the Greenwood Fire Station. Leaders will be Margaret Ring and Denise Swan.

Curator Larry Billings wishes all the officers and committees of the Historical Society a successful year. November is the anniversary of the society's founding. It will mark the end of its 16th year. Thanks to all those who have contributed to this organization. It tries to serve the community and area and record their historic and cultural development. Curator Larry Billings has provided some holiday decorations for the society and has given a primitive art print. The society seeks to educate and inform people about subjects of significance.

The Greenwood Fire Department Auxiliary will hold their craft fair on Nov. 4 at the Fire Station. The auxiliary held a meeting Monday evening to discuss it. Those present were: Maggie Ring, Lorraine Mills, Mary Stone, Denise Swan and Barbara Dunham. The auxiliary will have a food table and would appreciate donations of bars, cookies, etc. They also will be serving lunch.

Tri-Town Auxiliary will hold a supper at the West Paris Grange Hall on Nov. 4. Plan to make a day of it and attend the craft fair and then the supper. The organizations really appreciate your participation at these fundraisers.

There was a 50th wedding anniversary for Carl and Lettie Brooks last Sunday. Those attending from this area were Charlotte Cole, Vera Cross, Don and Elsie Bennett and Helen Chase. Bob Cole attended from Bethel.

Gerry Shuman and I were in Oxford last Wednesday afternoon doing some shopping. We happened to see Raymond Swan there doing some shopping, also. We don't see as much of Raymond now he's living in Bethel. After Gerry and I finished our shopping we had supper at a restaurant in South Paris.

Vera Cross and Grace Smith attended the Past President Party of the Legion Auxiliary at South Paris on Thursday evening.

Monday, I took Ann Fitzmorris of Bethel to Augusta where she had some business to attend to. I found out a couple things. One, it is a long stretch between West Paris and North Wayne when your gas tank reads "empty," and two, I do not like the long bridge and rotary there. It isn't that I mind long bridges so much as it is because this one was so far up. I tried to ignore it by keeping my eyes straight ahead, but my stomach still knew it was a long way down. The rotary for those who have ever been on it needs no explanation. There is a saying about how all roads lead to Rome that I would have no hesitation in changing to "the Rotary." Otherwise, the trip was very enjoyable. Oh, yes, there is another thing about Augusta I would like explained -- such as why the buildings on the main drag have no visible numbers on them. It doesn't do much good to know you need to go to Number 60 when there are no numbers in sight. As Bob of Bob's Basement would say, "Ain't that odd?"

Mac, Tammy and Bridget Billings were in Hartford, Conn., over the weekend to attend Parents' Weekend at Hartford University with their son Shane. Gordon Newell and Herschel Abbott paid a visit on Jim and Elizabeth Knights one evening last week.

I enjoyed a phone chat with Elizabeth last week. An open house was held at Woodstock Elementary School on Wednesday night. Those from the community attending were: Carol Davis and Kara Jacques, Barbara, Sandy, Ashley and Adam Miller, and Sue, Tony, Joelle and Errol Silver.

Erlene Rosenberg paid a visit with Emma Billings on Tuesday. Mandy McInnis enjoyed a weekend home from Gordon College and visited her grandparents, Rob and Norma Davis. Chris and Ken Lindsay also visited them over the weekend.

The robins must be getting ready for their southerly flight. I noticed quite a flock on Pete Rosenberg's lawn this morning.

Thomas and Diane Angell of North Scituate, R.I., Wanda Hutchinson of W. Peru and Juanita Korhonen of Bryant Pond were Tuesday guests of Heritage Farm.

The weather remains unseasonably warm. The all-day hard rain on Saturday, Oct. 21 helped alleviate the water shortage.

Frank and Gert Pooler of Scarborough have been spending time at camp. Frank was a delivery truck driver for Hood's Ice Cream for several years. We reminisced about the changes since the ice cream was delivered in two-and-one-half or five-gallon heavy metal containers, kept frozen with chopped ice and salt and dipped into five-cent and ten-cent cones. I suppose it would be unthinkable today to fill up ice houses with truck loads of Umbagog Lake ice thereby disturbing the wet lands.

West Bethel

by Constance Broadbent

Dear Merv, I'm writing on behalf of my mother and all the other elderly folk in your audience who love to watch your shows; that one with the wheel and the turns of phrase, and the other one where the questions and the answers are dished up in reverse. I've just spent a couple of weeks living under my mother's roof again to help her regain her homostasis after yet another broken bone, this time a thoracic vertebra. And in the early evening, after the dining and the doing, we would turn her wheel chair TV-ward so that she could try to formulate answers from the clues as they appeared. The words and phrases generated by the spinning of the wheel were a piece of cake for her 91-year-old cerebrum, or she would laugh at her inability to fill in all the blanks before the contestants did just that. The answers were at the finish of each round and it was easy to see who enjoyed each puzzle as next nonagenarian...

But...then along come the pace is much quicker, wows, or questions, which call them, are rattled off what frantic tones, and noticed a problem that only solve, dear Merv of the tones-of-the-forties, and the contestants rushing answer to the next, it was Mother to hear wows/questions all the time watched and tried to get more and more frustrated cause she had missed it given. And, as she had several occasions, she like the game and to participate she is ignorant of some games, so that she can't learn!

I heard her arrive at the I was formulating it in head...she said, "I wish would print the answer of so that at least I'd know in case I can't hear it"...How easy for your techne not?

On the night of our duty, after many days of tending and caring for our alert mother, my sisters some of the family went crowded restaurant to do least Muddy's return to rulation. We were thru downstairs bar and grill; televisions suspended heads; Jeopardy was sound was off. And as was distracted in turn by or two as they flashed all realized how clever idea was. We experienced itation of not hearing it and of having to figure right or not...In chorus that the answer should too!

I'm back home in W now. It's a small village, foothills of the White Mountains, the Maine side. Here we like church suppers, Christmas meetings, and several levels...and we w ol Fortune, and Jeopardy did just that. The answers were obvious at the finish of each round, and it was easy to see that Muddy enjoyed each puzzle as well as the next nonagenarian...

But...then along comes Jeopardy! The pace is much quicker, the answers, or questions, whichever you call them, are rattled off in somewhat frantic tones, and I quickly noticed a problem that only you can solve, dear Merv of the golden-tones- of-the-forties. With Alex and the contestants rushing from one answer to the next, from one category to the next, it was hard for Mother to hear the answers/questions all the time. As she watched and tried to keep up, she got more and more frustrated, because she had missed the answers given. And, as she had noted on several occasions, she likes to watch the game and to participate, even if she is ignorant of some of the categories, so that she can continue to learn!

I heard her arrive at the solution as I was formulating it in my own head...she said, "I wish that they would print the answer on the screen so that at least I'd know what it was, in case I can't hear it..."How simple! How easy for your technology! Why not?

On the night of our release from duty, after many days and nights of tending and caring for our aged but alert mother, my sisters and I and some of the family went to a local, crowded restaurant to dine and to toast Muddy's return to relative ambulation. We were thrust into the downstairs bar and grill; there were televisions suspended above our heads; Jeopardy was on, but the sound was off. And as each of us was distracted in turn by a question or two as they flashed around us, we all realized how clever Muddy's idea was. We experienced the frustration of not hearing the answers and of having to figure if we were right or not...In chorus we decided that the answer should be flashed too!

I'm back home in West Bethel now. It's a small village in the foothills of the White Mountains, on the Maine side. Here we do things like church suppers, Christmas fairs, Grange meetings, and gardens on several levels...and we watch Wheel of Fortune, and Jeopardy. In the last month, we cooked a boiled dinner for the Senior Citizens and another on a subsequent Saturday for John and Mary Public. Much of the food we prepare on woodstoves; the corned beef and cabbage simmer in vast vats; the results are scrumptious. On a week from Sunday (November 12, at 6:30 p.m.), many of the same folk will gather for an evening of song at our Union Church in the village. Our choir and that of the United Methodist church "down town" will combine our voices in hymns and harmony for the sole purpose of entertaining our friends and neighbors. We hope to raise the rafters!

Why don't you join us? We could use another good tenor. If you can make the trip, call me. We have extra rooms and a wonderful mountainous vista for your viewing pleasure...Meanwhile, would you please give serious consideration to my plea? It would definitely increase the viewing/listening pleasure of all who miss the audio now and then...and oh, by the way...could you please 'up the ante' for the thinking people? It has always struck me as strange that your "wheel" contestants, whose cerebrum are not nearly as taxed as those of the "other" show, can amass immediate fortunes with the flick of a wrist, while the "others" often go away after a hard night's work with empty pockets and paltry prizes. Could you fix that picture, please?

Keep tuned! Keep singing! Keep entertaining...Thanks for listening.

Love,
C.B.

The Windy Valleys Snowmobile Club will meet Tuesday night, Nov. 7, 7 p.m. at the Town

Building.

The Newry Recreation Committee's annual ski equipment issue will take place Nov. 7 and 8 from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. at the Newry Town Office. Newry students who are enrolled in MSAD44 are eligible to receive ski equipment. Some of the larger skis and boots will be for sale at that time.

Call to Worship Sunday morning,

Oct. 22, was held at 9 a.m. at the Newry Community Church with Pastor Rodney Hanscom at the pulpit and daughter Nancy at the organ. The Message of the Day was: "A Foundation of Love," from Scriptures of St. John 14-21 -- "He that hath my commandments and keepeth them, he it is that loveth me; and he loveth my Father, and I will loveth him, and will manifest myself to him." Gil Seely gave a Bible quiz special: "Who was the good Samaritan who helped a certain traveler who was going from Jerusalem to Jericho and was beaten by robbers?" -- from Scriptures of St. Luke.

There will be no Community Church Ladies Circle meetings until further notice.

Betsy Clark and Gil Seely celebrated their birthdays at Karlene Bachelder's home with a luncheon and exchange of gifts on Thursday, Oct. 26.

Theresa Toti, Jackie Kraunelis and Rose Enos, all from Rhode Island, came to help Gil's 88th birthday celebration on the 24th. There were three days of fun. They also went bowling with "Newry Bowling Gang" members Karlene Bachelder, Betsy Clark, Irene Hadfield, Doris Parent, Bea Lowell, Olive Anderson, Jennie T., Jane Young and me. On the overall scores Betsy was high on the triples and also had a high single of 102, but Jackie beat her with a 110 on the singles. Betsy had six spares; Karlene had three spares; Jane, Irene, and Jennie each had two spares; Jackie had four spares and one strike; Gil had one spare; Olive had one strike and one spare.

Happy Birthday to Peggy Wight -- "I surely hope that these Happy Birthday wishes will make your special day full of joy and good cheer."

Polly Smith and her sister, Freda Edmonds of South Paris, visited Ellen Coffin of Norway recently. Mr. and Mrs. Adolf Honkala of Richmond, Va., visited Rudi and Barbara Honkala from Oct. 20 to 23. All went to the Finnish Festival on Oct. 21. They came home in driving sheets of rain that night.

Floribel Haines is doing very well. She still gets around with some help. Ruby Coolidge has been attending line dancing classes in South Paris. Ruby Coolidge and her daughter Rosie went on a big shopping trip to Lewiston on Oct. 23.

Mr. and Mrs. "Buster" Bartlett and Mr. and Mrs. Dannie Barrett of New Castle, N.H., and Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Conroy of Auburn visited at the Bartlett Homestead recently.

We were saddened by the sudden death of Maynard Cushman, Maynard graduated with me from Woodstock High School. Sincere sympathy goes out to his wife and family and also his many associates and friends. It is always sad to hear that someone you know dies especially when it is a young person.

I went up to the Woodstock Town Office to have a flu shot this past week. The Bethel Health Center, who were giving the shots had an emergency so they were late. I decided to go to West Paris the next day to have the shot instead of waiting. While I was waiting at Woodstock I met a very nice gentleman, Rupert Elliott, whose name I recognized when I worked in South Paris. We had a nice chat on such a beautiful day.

Speaking of beautiful days the fall has been just wonderful weather almost all the time. I really enjoy this time of year.

I think the road work is coming to a close. The crews are out finishing up a few areas. It sure will be an improvement.

Larry Billings, curator, Woodstock Historical Society reports that he has given an art print of a village to the museum. Mr. Billings takes an interest in many subjects he feels will benefit the society. The society promotes historical and cultural causes in our community and area.

Congratulations to Vince and Beverly Stevens on their wedding anniversary this month. Birthday greetings in November go to: Tim Poland, Joan Poland, Perry Ryerson, Anna Ryerson, Sandra Monzo, Heath Poland, Cuesar Morgan, Diana Poland, Lorena Wilson, Faith Verrell, Jerod Verrell, Dale Hadley, Donald Mason, Sr., Danny Brown and Ozzie Hart. November seems to be a popular month for birthdays.

Sylvia Clark of Bryant Pond took Ruth Cummings of the Bethel House to Waterford recently and treated her to Buffalo Burgers at Tut's. From there they went to the buffalo farm in Waterford. Seeing none there they went to the buffalo farm in Harrison, where they saw a number of the animals.

They continued on to South Paris to see their niece, Diane Hanscom. They did not find her home so returned to Bethel. Both had a very nice time and enjoyed their Buffalo Burgers.

Vada Glover of Rumford took Ruth Cummings of the Bethel House to Dr. Porter's in Norway recently. Both had their eyes examined. They had lunch at Shaner's.

They went to the potluck supper at the Bethel Alliance Church at night. Both enjoyed the day very much.

During the heavy rains and high winds, power was off and on several hours Saturday afternoon and evening. The pond level rose over our wharf for the first time since early spring.

Mrs. Kassi Gatchell and Kaity of Portland spent Friday and Saturday with her parents. They also visited Norma's kindergarten classroom part of the day Friday.

Saturday afternoon, our families gathered here to help celebrate the birthdays of Sylvia and Christopher Swan. Two decorated cakes and ice creams were served and opening of gifts enjoyed in spite of the power shortage. Attending were the honored guests and Sheri and Tami Swan of Auburn, Ethel and Craig Turner and Jon of Otisfield, Amber Bean from University of Vermont, Mrs. Dottie Adams of Hanover, hosts Norma and David Salway, Kassi and Kaity and myself.

The Rev. Brendon Bass was a caller here Thursday.

afternoon, Oct. 22, at the Grange Hall in West Paris. There were 150 friends and relatives who attended. They received a card shower and good wishes from all. There was music by Felt's Orchestra, which all enjoyed. The poem which follows was read.

To Carl and Lettie, You tell us it's your golden! The reason that we are here today / So it's with warm affection / That we have stopped by to say / The usual anniversary wishes / On this special date / We bring love and best wishes / As we start to celebrate / Maybe we should

Gould teams top seeds in tournaments

By SCOTT JEROME and ALISON ALOISIO

Having been crowned MAISAD League Champions, Gould Academy's field hockey team heads into the league tournament today.

The team won the MAISAD title with a 7-1-1 record, losing only their final game (in overtime) against Brewster Academy.

"We had a great season. We had five shutouts, and only nine total goals scored against us," said coach Sue Gardner.

The Huskies boasted a balanced attack. "The goals we scored were spread out amongst the offense," Gardner said.

She said key players this year were junior Meredith Mason and senior Mandy Sysko of Bethel on offense, and junior center halfback Shelley MacQuinn on defense.

Gardner said while Gould did not put a lot of balls in the goal over the course of the season, it wasn't for lack of shooting.

"We outshot our opponents by a lot. We averaged about 20 shots a game," she said.

The Huskies face Kents Hill at 10 a.m. today (Wednesday) in the single-elimination MAISAD Tournament at Hebron Academy.

Gould has beaten Kents Hill twice. If the Huskies prevail again, they'll play the winner of the Waynflete/Hebron game for the tournament title.

Soccer

"We have so much fun in practice that you wouldn't think that we are undefeated," said sophomore Shawn Morales, co-captain of Gould's J.V. soccer team.

With only one game remaining in the regular season, the Huskies are 10-0-1, averaging over three offensive goals per game. They are in first place in the MAISAD League. Junior Eric Rackliffe of Bethel led scorers with 14 goals.

The defense, led by freshman sweeper Tate Lacey and sophomore goalie Chris Bassett, has allowed only seven goals -- fewer than one per game.

Coach Chris Torino avoids giving too much credit to the offense, defense, or individual players, however.

"Every player has accepted his role, and they have improved as a team," he said.

Morales echoed his coach. "We bring up the level of intensity every time we play," he said.

To celebrate his 18th birthday, Morales scored two of Gould's five goals in a win over Hebron Academy last Wednesday.

The team goes into the MAISAD Tournament on Sunday at Gould as the top seed. If the Huskies win in the first round, it will mark the third season in a row in which the team has qualified for the finals.

Tournament play starts at 10 a.m.

If you would like an evening of impressive music, mark your calendar for Friday, Nov.

3. The Boy Singers of Maine will be performing at Oxford Hills High School at 7 p.m. You may remember, but we here in West Paris are particularly proud of the fact that one of our students, Ben Blake, is a member of that group. Their director, Jay Churchill, also has ties to our area, as she graduated from Oxford Hills High School in 1981. The cost for the evening's entertainment is $5 for adults and $2 for children and seniors.

I have one correction to make. Last week I said the second-graders were preparing for a field trip to a local mine with their pen pals from the Rowe School. I goofed! It was the third-grade class. The trip to the mine was exciting and successful, the weather was perfect, and both classes enjoyed having lunch together outside on our picnic tables.

Our early release day proved to be busy, and with a lot accomplished. Grades four, five and six, met with other teachers at the same grade level to score a writing prompt that was done two weeks ago. No teacher was allowed to score his or her own class. We are following the guidelines set up by the State of Maine, and use this guideline to improve our students' writing. Faculty and staff that remained at school spent the afternoon making plans for several enrichment activities that will be coming up during the school year. They were also able to use some of the time to assign a grade level to some of our Chapter 1 books that will be used at all grade levels.

The Fantastic First Graders and the Kindergarten class are getting excited about their field trip to Chipman Farm's pumpkin patch. Not only will this be a fun trip around Halloween time, but all kinds of learning activities will be done before and after the trip.

The second-grade Star of the Week is Ryan Lorrain. Ryan loves race cars, and Ryan's classmates like him because he is nice to everybody. Ryan's class is learning about problem solving by remembering four strategies: understand, plan, solve and check back.

Our two fourth grades are learning about Fishing off the Coast of Maine, and are working on rounding numbers to the nearest thousand. They are also learning to read numbers in the millions.

My fifth-graders are working with numbers in the billions. They would like to spend all our class time playing the Largest Number game. We have finished up our reading unit, "Operation Wildlife," and are beginning a unit of three stories by Sid Fleischman. He writes with humor, but usually teaches us a lesson at the same time. Our next book report will be a class book by the same author, and is called "The Whipping Boy."

Mr. Koch reminds his sixth-graders that the first ranking period ends on Nov. 3, and that four book record sheets are due by then. In math they are working on decimals and in writing -- what else? A Halloween story! In reading they have just completed "Lurkers of the Deep," and are designing a deep ocean display.

AIRMAN CRAIG ZINCK

Air Force Airman Craig M. Zinck has graduated from basic training at Oakland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas.

During the six weeks of training, the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization, and customs and received special training in human relations.

In addition, airmen who complete basic training earn credits toward an associate degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

Zinck is the son of Dana C. Putnam of Valley Road, Peru, and Linda Zinck of Bethel.

He is a 1995 graduate of Mountain Valley High School, Rumford.

HIGH-TECH PROJECTS--Above: Linda Kuzyk's fifth-grade class at the Crescent Park School has been studying patterns as part of a satellite learning activity. With fingerprints as one of the topics, Bethel police chief Dale Bellman was invited to demonstrate techniques used by police. Here, he fingerprints student Billy Murphy. Below: The fifth grade put out a request for E-mail messages recently. They got responses from across the U.S. and around the world. "We had a lot from Canada and the central U.S. and West Coast. We also heard from Australia, New Zealand, Egypt, Africa, and Brazil," said Kuzyk. Here, lines connect the U.S. messages to their point of origin, creating yet another pattern.

Matters of Health

From Boston University Medical Center

PHOBIAS: Beyond normal fears and anxieties

My best friend was in an automobile accident a year ago, and she still won't drive on the turnpike where it happened. In fact, she has gotten to the point where she won't drive on turnpikes at all. When I ask her about her behavior, she says it's no big deal. Is this a normal reaction? I'm worried that she may need some kind of help.

It is certainly normal for a person to go through a period of adjustment before revisiting a situation in which she has had a traumatic experience. However, while it is difficult to identify an appropriate period of recovery, when the person's reaction involves an extreme physical or emotional response, or interferes with daily living, there may be cause for concern.

When fear or anxiety related to a situation becomes unreasonable and overwhelming, the condition is called a phobia. It can manifest itself physically, with such symptoms as sweating, nausea or chest pain, and emotionally, with the person becoming so anxious that he or she avoids the situation causing the anxiety, at all costs. Phobias are distinguished from normal fears in that a phobia can dramatically reduce a person's ability to function normally and can severely affect that person's quality of life. For the phobic patient, just thinking about the source of anxiety can prompt a panicked response. A person's phobia can be compounded if he or she becomes afraid of the reaction the phobia causes -- such as fainting, panicking or losing emotional control -- and therefore avoids the situation at all costs.

Many people are embarrassed by their phobias, and therefore try to hide them. "Such people are often afraid to admit that they feel weak," says David Leiman, M.D., an assistant clinical professor of psychiatry at Boston University School of Medicine. Unfortunately, the longer a person puts off getting help with his or her phobia, the more it becomes a part of that person's life, and the more difficult it is to treat, Leiman says.

A phobia is a type of anxiety disorder, the most common mental health problem. Other anxiety disorders include panic attacks, post-traumatic stress disorder, and obsessive-compulsive disorder. Anxiety disorders are quite common -- nearly one-quarter of the adults in the United States will experience one at some point during their lifetime.

Though only a medical or mental health professional can properly diagnose an anxiety disorder, your friend does seem to be exhibiting the behavior commonly associated with phobias, in that her fear is now significantly affecting the way in which she conducts her daily life.

There are three different types of phobias:

Specific Phobia: This type of phobia is associated with a particular object or situation, and can usually be traced back to a specific incident. For example, someone who has a phobia associated with being near a horse may have been thrown from one as a child. Likewise, someone who, like your friend, was in a car accident, may be afraid to drive in the conditions in which the accident occurred.

Social Phobia: People suffering from social phobia become abnormally uncomfortable in certain social situations, out of fear that they will humiliate or embarrass themselves or be scrutinized or rejected by others. While it is normal to feel nervous before having a serious discussion with a boss or making a speech, the person with social phobia may become overwhelmed by the fear and be unable to proceed. People with social phobias are not abnormally uncomfortable in every social situation.

Agoraphobia: This type of phobia is more complicated than specific and social phobia, in that it involves one rooted fear that can develop in many different circumstances. Agoraphobia is the fear of being in a situation that is difficult to escape physically, such as being in a crowd or crossing a bridge. It causes panic attacks, which are intense physical manifestations of fear that can last as long as 10 minutes. A person having a panic attack may feel the crushing chest pain associated with heart attack and believe he is going to die. Agoraphobia can progress to the stage where the person is afraid to leave home.

Phobias and all other anxiety disorders are treatable illnesses. The most common forms of therapy for the conditions are cognitive, behavioral and medical, or a combination of the three. Cognitive therapy involves changing emotional and behavioral reactions by restructuring self-defeating thoughts. Behavioral therapy involves unlearning self-defeating responses and learning new actions. In drug therapy, the type and amount of medication recommended by a physician depends on the patients' individual needs. The earlier a phobia is diagnosed and treated, the more promptly the person responds.

Jackson-Silver Auxiliary

On Oct. 19, Jackson-Silver American Legion Post and Unit held their annual dinner to honor Telstar High School seniors who were delegates to Boys State and Girls State last June. As the names imply, the boys at Maine Maritime Academy and the girls at Husson College spend a week learning how government works by doing. They run for town, county and state offices in at least two parties, hold caucuses, town meetings, mock courts, establish platforms and enact laws. All express a few things in common: they learned a lot and didn't realize how complicated, frustrating but interesting the political process could be. Sponsored by Jackson-Silver Post were: Heath Poland, Josh Adams, Adam Newell and Benjamin Fogg. The Auxiliary sponsored Dawn Waisanen and Becky Chandler. Also attending was M.J. Learned, who was sponsored by the Oxford County Council Auxiliary, but whose expenses were paid by the town of Andover, which pays for one girl each year.

At the meeting which followed, the Unit voted contributions to Opportunity Farm for Boys, Togos Christmas Gift Shops, one to the new Veterans Home in South Paris and one for the other Veterans Homes in Maine.

On Nov. 1 the Auxiliary will begin taking orders for light bulbs for the three Christmas trees which they light each year on the grounds of the Legion Hall. These lights may be purchased for $2 each in honor of, or memory of, a veteran. One tree is for the family members of veterans. Income from this project is used for Christmas gifts for veterans at Ledgeview Nursing Home and for the Christmas Gift Shops.

Special Olympics will benefit from the card and table game party to be held Nov. 5 at 1 p.m. at the Legion Hall. For a $5 donation to Special Olympics one can enjoy pie and beverage, followed by an afternoon of playing cards or other games with friends and a good chance to win one of the many door prizes donated by area businesses.

The Legion Post is arranging a special program for Veterans Day on Nov. 11 at 9 a.m. The parade for that day has been rained out so many times in the past that it was decided to not plan for one this year. There will be music by the Mahoosuc Music Makers and some speakers. State Rep. Al Barth (R-Bethel) will be the featured speaker. The public is invited to attend and there will no doubt be something for refreshments.

Nov. 14 is the date for another of the Auxiliary's Musical Suppers. The main dish will be chicken pie. Children under 12 pay $2.50 and others $5. for a plentiful meal, door prizes, entertainment and dancing to the Richard Felt band.

REGIONAL COUNCIL DINNER—Over 90 people gathered in Locke Mills recently at a Red Ribbon Week celebration to honor the volunteers and accomplishments of the Western Regional Council on Alcoholism, Inc. (WRCA) and the Western Maine Community Partnership's four sites (greater Bethel, Farmington, Oxford Hills, and Rumford areas). Outstanding Corporate Service awards were presented to the Bethel Area Health Center in Bethel. Approximately $810,000 in new and expanded substance abuse prevention and treatment services will be brought to the greater Bethel area due to a consortium grant generated cooperatively by the Bethel Area Health Center, Stephens Memorial Hospital, and WRCA. From this grant, nearly $270,000 in preventive services over a three-year period will be provided to adults and youths. Wende Gray, president of the Bethel Area Health Center's board of trustees, accepted the award on behalf of BAHC. The four individual partnerships made special presentations to site volunteers. Brian Stowell, WRCA's prevention specialist for the greater Bethel area, presented a Volunteer of the Year award to Gail Wight, the Rod Abbott Follow-Through award to Sally Hannon, and a Mover and Shaker award to Sue Howe in appreciation for all they do to create a healthy community. Stowell also served as Master of Ceremonies for this Red Ribbon Week cross-site celebration. Shown here are (from left) Brian Stowell, prevention specialist, Regional Partnership; Joe Perham, Maine humorist; Kenneth McAuliffe, president, W.R.C.A.; Bob Rice is vice president and general manager, WMTW, Ch. 8, Lewiston, and Mrs. Rice.

FUEL ASSISTANCE CUT

Community Concepts is now making appointments for the Home Energy Assistance Program. Congress is cutting the funding for the Home Energy Assistance Program (HEAP), which pays for a portion of the heating fuel used by lower income households, by at least 25 percent this winter. Some area low-income families that have received heating fuel assistance in the past winters may no longer be eligible for help because of reductions in the federal budget. Statewide estimates indicate that as many as 20,000 of the 55,000 households that received help last winter may not be eligible this year.

As a result of the decision by Congress to lower funding, persons living in subsidized housing with heat included have been automatically eliminated. Other categories of income eligible renters and homeowners will continue to receive a heating benefit provided their annual usage is over $200. Individuals should contact their local office to obtain further information in making a fuel assistance appointment.

Local phone numbers to call for more information are: South Paris office, 743-7716; Rumford office, 364-3721.

MANAGEMENT CLUB

Western Maine Management Club will meet Nov. 6 at the Bull Ring Restaurant, Oxford. Social Hour will be from 5:30 to 6:30 p.m. with dinner from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. The meal will be $15 per person.

The guest speaker, starting at 7:30 p.m. will be attorney Larry Winger, who will speak on employment law issues.

Reservations for the Nov. 6 meeting are being taken by Terri Grover of Fred P. Saunders Co. in Bridgton at 647-3331. Reservations should be made no later than Nov. 3.

LISA MCMAHON of the Virgin Islands and Boston University is at the Bethel Area Health Center for a six-week fellowship rotation to learn about rural medicine. She said she's seen a variety of patients so far. "We had someone in who had a cow step on their foot. We've also had people hiking, climbing, and getting into trees," she said. McMahon hopes eventually to go into family practice. She became interested in medicine at age 9, after saving her grandmother's life using the Heimlich maneuver. McMahon is shown here with physician's assistant Michael Poirier.

FROM THE

Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce

Members are invited to the upcoming Business After Hours, to be held on Monday, Nov. 6 at the Briar Lea Bed & Breakfast from 5 to 7 p.m. Members are also invited to the early morning Members Conversation on Wednesday, Nov. 1 at 7:45 a.m. at the chamber office.

Several chamber committees have been or will be meeting. The Special Projects/Beautification Committee, chaired by Carole Duplessis, met last Thursday to discuss Christmas decorating in downtown Bethel. If you have ideas, or are willing to help, please call Carole at 836-2791. The Bethel Area Reservation Service Committee will be meeting at noon this Thursday, Nov. 2 at the chamber office. The Bethel Art Fair Committee will be meeting at noon on Wednesday, Nov. 1 at Bethel Frames, on the Osgood Rd.

Member Boise Cascade held a breakfast meeting last week and brought the attendees up to date on several issues regarding their mill and the paper industry in general. All are encouraged to educate themselves about Jonathan Carter's "Strip Harvesting" Referendum.

Information on the referendum, and the ramifications of it, can be obtained through the local wood products companies: P.H. Chadbourne, 824-2166; Bethel Furniture Stock, 836-2624; Boise Cascade (Susan Parella, Communications), 364-4521; or the Small Woodlands Owners Association, 207-626-0005.

Board members are to be reminded about the Board of Directors Retreat on Nov. 14 from 3 to 8 p.m., location to be announced.

Happy Birthday to John and Donna Gillis, owners of Pat's Pizza, who are celebrating the completion of a successful first year here in Bethel.

Bicentennial Committee notes:

Note to Veterans, families, others, who wish to take part in the Veterans Show and Tell, to be held Nov. 8, 3 to 8 p.m. at Crescent Park School. The souvenir booklet for the program needs your information by Nov. 4. Call 824-2234, or leave written notes at 21 Church Street. Needed are names of related service personnel, dates of service, branch of service, locations during service. Your souvenirs from past generations are wanted. Even if you may have little information about them, perhaps someone else can help. Please come and take part.

reminisce/ A bit, before we are through/ And bring to light some things about you two/ We'll walk them down memory lane/ Things now are not the same/ They lived through horse and buggy days/ Known now as old fashion ways/ In those days, 50 years ago/ People think now were slow/ Compared to today, I suppose they were/ But not so to him or her/ Carl worked at the farm/ Where Lettie was born/ So he was up and about in early morn/ When he was a lad/ Some years ago/ He was destined to be Lettie's beau/ But a war came on/ And Carl had to leave/ To travel far over the seas/ Over the years Lettie kept in touch/ And I'm sure she missed him very much/ Time moved on and Lettie taught school/ She waited for Carl/ To return to stay/ Then her name changed/ To Brooks, in place of Day/ So on Oct. 19, 1945 they said, "I do." And started a life that was so new/ But the years stop for no one/ Lettie has proved to be a loving wife/ As they have faced much joy and strife/ Some lines may show in their face/ But they have met fun and sorrow/ With a gentle sort of grace/ The Grange has been their treasure/ They danced, played, had fun/ And always kept things moving in a hum/ I remember visiting them/ And I'd watch the wood fire glow/ So nice after romping outside in the snow/ Soon there was a rich aroma/ Crusty new baked bread/ With butter and jam near by/ Just waiting to be spread/ There was magic in the fuel bin/ Only they understood/ As with practiced fingers/ They chose the right wood/ The kind to bring the biscuits up high/ Or the kind for a delicious custard pie/ For a time we have put other things away/ And traveled the lanes of yesterday/ But I must stop sometime, it is true/ To say, "Best wishes with love to you/ There's an eighty in your years/ But not in your heart/ So keep your precious memories/ Way back from the start/ Now Happy Anniversary from everyone here/ And may God give you peace and happiness through the years. C.C.M.

High Street

West Paris by Russell Yates Howdy, folks. This is Sunday evening, the 22nd day of October, and what a nice day it has been, after the rain and high winds of last night. We were some of the lucky ones, as we didn't lose our electricity but many others did.

been, after the rain and high winds of last night. We were some of the lucky ones, as we didn't lose our electricity but many others did.

Peggy and I attended Ladies Night at Oxford Grange on Friday evening. They had a planned supper at 6 p.m. with the meeting at 7:30 p.m. There were many visitors and the ladies filled the offices. Peggy took the office of Ceres. There was a real good attendance to enjoy the meeting and the fine program. I was the lucky winner of one of the mystery packages. My package consisted of apples, and I'm fond of them. We enjoyed the nice supper and the meeting very much.

I spent a lot of the day yesterday harvesting, washing and cooking what kale we wanted to put into the freezer. We had hoped for a good freeze to make it all the better, but since the deer were getting at some of it we decided that if we wanted any of it we'd better be harvesting it instead of waiting for a freeze. I removed the wire that we had covering part of it and now the deer are welcome to what remains. We do wish they'd come for it in the daytime.

Saturday afternoon, Nancy Dewing from Greenwood came down and helped Peggy cover a lot of cans to be used when the ladies have their Craft, Food and White Elephant Sale on Nov. 11. These cans will be used in the Cookie Walk. Peggy rested some in the afternoon and then joined Doc Merrill as he was on his way to enjoy the dance at West Paris Grange.

It has been a real nice day (Sunday) and we've been on the go again. This afternoon we attended the funeral for Maynard Cushman at the Andrew's Funeral Home. Maynard was certainly well remembered, and I have never seen so many people at a funeral before. There was only standing room when we got there and many came after us. We wish to extend our sympathy to the members of his family. It is difficult to understand why one so young with such a promising future is taken from our midst, but there is reason for all that happens.

After the funeral, we attended the 50th wedding anniversary for Carl and Lettie Brooks at West Paris Grange Hall. Bertha Benoit hosted the anniversary party and was the one to make and decorate the lovely anniversary cake. Music was furnished by the Richard Felt musical group and Brother Carl played the bones for a few snappy tunes. As usual, there was an abundance of refreshments and a real good attendance to enjoy all of the festivities. The guests received many, many anniversary cards and will still be looking at cards for many days. We don't expect that they'll have another 50 years, but we do wish them many more happy years together.

Mary Lovejoy was in Bethel on business, Wednesday, and called at the Bethel House to visit Helena Bartlett.

Hope Lovejoy spent the night Friday visiting Christina Morse in North Norway.

A Saturday caller at the Lovejoy home was Russell Mack from West Paris, and Sunday callers were Chris and Darey Whittemore from South Paris.

Sunday afternoon, Mary Lovejoy attended the 50th wedding anniversary for Carl and Lettie Brooks at the West Paris Grange Hall.

Time is fast passing along and it will soon be November instead of October. There will be another dance at West Paris Grange Hall on Nov. 4, with music by the Richard Felt Orchestra.

Don't forget the Craft, Food, and White Elephant Sale to be held at West Paris Grange Hall on Nov. 11, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. This year's food sale will also include a Cookie Walk. Tables are available for $3 each and to reserve tables call Peggy Blake at 674-3872. We hope to see you there.

Oxford Pomona No. 2 will meet at Norway Grange Hall on Nov. 7, with a 6:30 supper preceding the meeting, which starts at 7:30 p.m. We need better attendance at our Pomona meetings, so please attend if you can. Thanks.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Blake of Bethel are pleased to announce the arrival of a baby girl, MacKenzie Sue, born Oct. 24, 1995, at Stephens Memorial Hospital, weighing 7 pounds, 5 ounces.

Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Brown of Bethel and Mrs. and Mrs. Warren Buck of South Paris. Maternal great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Saunders of West Bethel.

Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Blake of Bethel. Paternal great-grandmother is Mrs. Margaret Thornton.

HANDBELL RINGING

Two workshops will be held at the West Parish Congregational Church for people who wish to try handbell ringing. These sessions are designed for those who may not have musical experience, and who don't yet read music. Beginners are very welcome. The workshops will be Sunday, Nov. 5 and Sunday, Nov. 12. Each will begin at 2 p.m., and last about one hour.

Mr. & Mrs. Craig Aube

Carrie Olson and Craig Aube were united in marriage on Sept. 2 in an outside ceremony, arriving in horse and carriage, at the home of the bride's parents. The Rev. Kenneth Gurschick officiated at the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Linda and Neil Olson of Bethel. Parents of the bridegroom are Nancy and Gary Aube of Berlin, N.H.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father, carrying a cascade bouquet of dried roses and assorted flowers.

Jill Olson was maid of honor for her sister. Bridesmaids were Erica McPhee, Kristen Cushman and Michelle Oliver. Keith Roberge served as best man for the groom. Ushering were Adam McPhee, friend of the groom, and Kevin and Kurt Aube, brothers of the groom.

The bride and groom had two bridal hostesses, Wendy Faulkingham and Tara Bolduc. There were three readings at the ceremony performed by Jill Olson, Joan Sullivan and Tuesday Paine.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Summit Hotel in Newry. After a trip to Montego Bay, Jamaica, the couple are residing in their new home in Portland.

The bride received a bachelor of arts and science degree in communication from U.S.M. in 1994. She is currently employed by UNUM of Portland. The bridegroom is a master plumber and is self-employed.

Obituaries

MADELINE H. GIBBS

Madeline H. Gibbs of Bethel, widow of Guy E. Gibbs, passed away at her home on Oct. 30, 1995, in her 74th year. She was born in Blue Hill, daughter of Edward J. and Lydia Payronel Hinckley.

Mrs. Gibbs was a graduate of George Stephens Academy in Blue Hill and Colby College in Waterville. She also attended Columbia University and the University of Vermont.

She was a teacher at Rangeley High School and Gould Academy, and was librarian at Telstar Regional High School, from which she retired in 1983.

She was an opera-trained mezzo-soprano and was choir director at several churches.

She was a past member of the Delta Kappa Gamma Society, and a past member of the board of trustees of the Bethel Public Library.

She is survived by two sons: Thomas and Daniel, both of Bethel; three grandchildren; two sisters: Edith Turner of Attleboro, Mass., and Lillian Worcester of Ellsworth; and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be held Friday, Nov. 3, at the Bethel Alliance Church. There will be no visiting hours. In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to the Androscoggin Home Health Services.

Card of Thanks

The family of Maynard Cushman wishes to express warm thanks to all of Maynard's friends, co-workers and customers who so generously were there for us during our time of sorrow.

The Cushman Family

Card of Thanks

How does one say "Thank You" for such a special 50th Anniversary Party as was given to us by our relatives and friends? Richard Felt and his musicians gave up a Sunday afternoon to entertain. The Anniversary cake made by Bernita Benoit was beautiful and delicious. So just a great big THANK YOU for the cards, gifts, flowers and everything.

TOWN OF BETHEL BID

The Town of Bethel will accept bids for the 18 month period of January 1, 1996 - July 30, 1997 for hauling and tipping of municipal solid waste. Bids shall indicate a "per ton" figure for hauling and tipping. Bids shall be sealed and clearly marked "Solid Waste Hauling Bid" and be received at the Town Office, Town of Bethel, P.O. Box 108, Bethel, ME 04217 before 4 PM on November 20, 1995.

Job specifications may be obtained at the Bethel Town Office, 10 Main Street, Bethel. The Town of Bethel is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

BETHEL SIGN COMMITTEE SEEKING INTERESTED MEMBERS

The Bethel Planning Board is seeking interested persons who would be willing to serve with the present Sign Ordinance Committee as they deliberate the regulation of the blue state directional signs.

The Sign Ordinance Committee at its last meeting requested additional membership, especially from the business community, as it continues to discuss the best solution to protect business and avoid the sign litter on routes 26, 5, and 2.

Although the blue directional signs are regulated by the state at this time it is possible for the town to take control over these signs. Anyone interested in either serving or attending the meetings should call the Town Office at 824-2669.
